*The official Washtenaw Community College Graduation Entrance March
written by Dr. Morris J. Lawrence, Jr., ASCAP.

A Rich History

On January 15, 1965, Washtenaw County residents went to the polls and voted overwhelmingly - 11,109 in favor and 5,085 opposed - to establish Washtenaw Community College and elect its first Board of Trustees.

WCC's first board chair, Samuel Harmon, listed these the following as the most important accomplishments of that first board, which served from 1965 to 1967:

- The decision that the college should be a multi-purpose institution emphasizing technical-vocational programs, while at the same time offering strong college transfer and general education, and
- The decision to pursue an open door admissions policy whereby students are accepted on the basis of what they are ready to do, rather than what they have done.

Since then, Washtenaw Community College has served as an open door to all in the community, while striving to make a difference in people's lives through accessible and excellent educational programs and services.

WCC has continued to meet business and industry needs for an even more highly skilled workforce. Whether pursuing an academic degree or certificate or learning new skills through the college's professional development and continuing education offerings, WCC students receive world-class instruction to prepare them to meet life's many challenges.

Bhushan Kulkarni

Tech Entrepreneur, Founder & CEO

Bhushan Kulkarni is a highly accomplished technology entrepreneur, business leader and dedicated community supporter. He is the CEO of two Ann Arbor-based businesses: GDI Infotech, a digital transformation and consulting firm he founded in 1993, and InfoReady Corporation, an innovative platform serving colleges, universities, research institutions and foundations around the world. In 2021, he co-founded SensCy to help small and mid-sized organizations strengthen their cybersecurity posture.

Kulkarni's companies have been recognized multiple times by Inc. magazine as among the nation's fastest-growing, and he has received numerous honors, including Ernst & Young's Entrepreneur of the Year and Crain's Detroit Business "40 Under 40" and "American Dreamer" awards.

The list of local organizations that Kulkarni has supported with his time and resources is extensive and includes Saline Area Schools, the Ann Arbor Area Chamber of Commerce, the Ann Arbor Area Community Foundation and Ann Arbor SPARK. He currently serves as co-chair of the Michigan Founders Fund board of directors.

A passionate advocate for education and opportunity, Kulkarni has been a longtime supporter of Washtenaw Community College and its students. He joined the WCC Foundation Board of Directors in 2018 and served as chair from 2023 to 2025. His family established an endowed scholarship that will support WCC students in perpetuity, and he has helped foster the next generation of innovators through his support of the WCC Entrepreneurship Center's annual pitch competition.

Kulkarni and his wife, Swatee, immigrated to the United States from Mumbai, India, more than 35 years ago to pursue graduate studies in engineering. They raised three boys in Saline and have remained committed to strengthening both the local business community and educational opportunities for others.

Academic Processional and Regalia

The origins of academic dress date back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were first taking form. Long gowns were worn and may have been necessary for warmth in unheated buildings. The design of the cap, or mortarboard, resulted from combining two different types of caps commonly worn in medieval times. The first was a black skullcap and the second was a tufted, square cap called a pileus quadratus. The tufted cap evolved into a stiff-cornered cap that would not drape across the wearer's face. The term "mortarboard" was first used in an 1854 novel, The Adventures of Mr. Verdant Green, as a sarcastic reference to the cap's shape.

The master's gown includes a hood that is worn around the neck and hangs down the back. The lining of the hood is the official color or colors of the university that conferred the degree. The velvet trim color indicates the discipline in which the degree was earned. White, taken from the white fur trim of the Oxford and Cambridge Bachelor of Arts hoods, is assigned to arts and letters. Golden yellow, standing for the wealth which scientific research has produced, is assigned to the sciences. Light blue is used for education, dark blue for philosophy and purple for law.

Another major distinguishing characteristic of the gown is the sleeves: associate and bachelor, long pointed; master, oblong; doctor and specialist, bell-shaped. The doctor's gown has a velvet collar facing, and three bars on the sleeves. The specialist's gown is similar to a doctor's except that it has no sleeve bars.

A senior faculty member is the mace-bearer, or marshal of the graduates, and leads the procession. The mace used in Washtenaw's commencement exercises was designed and built by David Byrd, a former faculty member, in the early 1970s. The various parts of the mace represent program areas of the college–a tire for automotive programs, a gear for industrial manufacturing, and a graduated beaker for chemistry and health programs. The top of the mace is a torch of learning, signifying the overall mission of the college.

Key to Symbols

* Honors: minimum 3.5 grade point average.

 High Honors: minimum 3.8 grade point average.

† Phi Theta Kappa members

Graduates' submitted preffered names are used in this program.

The red, white and blue cords are worn by veterans of the US military.

The gold cord around the collars of the graduates denotes a standing of honor.

The gold honor stole is worn by members of the Phi Theta Kappa honor society.

The STEM Scholar stole is worn by graduates in the STEM Scholars program.

WCC permits students to participate in commencement before completing all graduation requirements. This program should not be accepted as proof of graduation.

Washtenaw Community College

60 Years of Keeping Up the Good Work

For 60 years, taxpayer investment in Washtenaw Community College has strengthened our workforce, fueled our economy and expanded opportunity across our community.

WCC's impact is everywhere – in the nurses who care for us, the officers who protect us, the teachers who educate our children, the skilled trades and manufacturing professionals who build and power our region, and the cybersecurity specialists who safeguard our digital world.

WCC is not just a college – it is Washtenaw County's superpower.

WCC MILLAGE RENEWAL | AUGUST 4 | YOUR VOTE MATTERS!
